Qaanaaq

A palindromic game for 2-3 thinkers

Rules

Goal: To have the most points when the board fills.

Setup: For two players one player plays 'Q', the other plays 'A', and the letter 'N' is neutral. For three players each plays one of the three letters.

Gameplay: On each turn, players write one of each letter into any empty cell on the board (the center is not a playable cell). When the board fills up then the scoring begins.

Scoring: Palindromes are checked along the horizontal, vertical, and diagonal axes. For each palindrome containing your letter, score points equal to the palindrome size minus the number of opponent letters therein. The neutral letter 'N' (2p only) is not considered in palindromes. In addition, sub-palindromes may also contain sub-palindromes that are scored separately.

For your first few plays you may ignore diagonal palindromes during scoring until you're comfortable with the game tactics.

Examples:

The palindrome QAQ for the Q-player is worth 2pts. However, the palindrome QNQ is worth 3pts. The player with the highest score wins.

The palindrome QQQQ is worth 4-points, but also contains sub-palindromes QQQ, QQQ, QQ, and QQ, making it worth a total of 16-points.
